Activities Fee Question To Go to Student Body for Vote

by Leah Figelman

• THE QUESTION of an Activities Fee will be resubmitted to a student referendum, the Student Council decided unanimously last Wednesday night. It also went on record as approving the compulsory fee.

The Council had originally voted to recommend to the Administration that there be an Activities Fee, but the motion was rescinded after Lower Columbian Representative Vic Clark insisted that the Council make no recommendations until they see the results of a student referendum. The original proposal had not made the Council recommendation contingent on the referendum results.

It was pointed out that Dr. Virginia Kirkbride and Dr. Paul Bissell seemed to favor the Fee, but that the Engineering School is still opposed. "The Engineering School may vote against this," Clark said, "but (last year's defeat) is the fault of the last Council for not having a positive campaign to offset this." And later he added, "If it is so good, we can sell it to the students."

Other members of the Council seem to believe that the Fee should be recommended before the student referendum. Program Director Buddy Levis expressed the opinion that a recommendation to the Administration now would show them that the majority of members on the Council favored the Fee. But Student Union Board Chairman Steve Schaeffer pointed out that it would be "silly to vote now as individuals sitting on the Council, and later, if the students vote against it, vote again as a corporate body of student representatives. It is true that one school like the Engineering School can defeat this, but it is the job of the School Representatives and the other Council members to get out and fight for it."

The Council voted unanimously to submit the Activities Fee to referendum. It also went on record as approving an Activities Fee, with Lance Berkowitz, Jerry Chizever, Debbie Colner, Dirk Gnodde, Buddy Levis, Eric Rubin, Rolf Russart, Steve Schaeffer, Linda Sennett, and Mike Steinman in favor; and Sandy Cain, Vic Clark, Rick Shearer and Vyta Tarulis opposed.

Holiday Season To Begin With Annual Tree Lighting

• "AS INDIVIDUALS, we cannot do much in the way of charity, but as a University, or as a concerted group, we can make the Holiday Season worthwhile for a noticeable number of Washington children and families," says Jim Rankin, chairman. He invites the University body to enjoy the spirit of the Holiday Season by participating in the many and varied events that will take place.

One of the highlights of the season will be the tree-lighting ceremony which will take place Monday, Dec. 16, in Lisner Auditorium and on Lisner Terrace, with two trees being lighted simultaneously.

Following the ceremony, the Fifteenth annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" by the University Glee Club and Troubadours, the Air Force Singing Sergeants, and the Air Force Symphony Orchestra will be presented at 8:15 pm in Lisner under the direction of Captain R. L. Landers, USAF. The Student Council has asked that University students bring canned food to the performance, for distribution to needy families.

The Holiday Season Committee is also sponsoring many events to enhance the spirit of the season including: the annual orphans' party and toy drive, Dec. 17 at 3:30 pm; the food drive, Dec. 18, noon; the window decorating and poster contest; carolling, Dec. 17, 7 pm; and the annual Chapel Service, Dec. 19, 8 pm.

All those who are interested in helping with the season's activities are invited to contact Jim Rankin at ME 8-7854.

Author Rostow Slated For New US Civilization Course

• WALT WHITMAN ROSTOW, prominent author and lecturer, will be one of the speakers in a new program which will attempt to give University students a broad view of various aspects of American culture and civilization.

The two-credit lecture-discussion course, "American Civilization," slated to begin in the spring semester, will feature lectures by distinguished scholars each week throughout the semester.

Among the other speakers who will appear are Carl Bode, diplomat, professor of English and author of a number of books including The Anatomy of American Culture; and Roy Basler, director of the Reference Department of the Library of Congress, and editor of Abraham Lincoln: His Speeches and Writings.

The course, open to all graduate and undergraduate students in any department, who have completed 85 credit hours, will meet in one late afternoon lecture section followed by one-hour discussion groups of 20, led by staff members. Lectures will center on current and controversial topics ranging from the fine arts, religion and philosophy, to political, social and economic problems.

Walt Rostow, author of The United States in the World Arena; The Stages of Economic Growth; A Non-Communist Manifesto; and The American Diplomatic Revolution, served in the government as Deputy Special Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs, and Counselor and chairman of the Policy Planning Council, Department of State.

Since 1950 Mr. Rostow has served on the faculty of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as professor of economic history, and a staff member of the Center for International Studies there. Rostow, who received his BA and PhD degrees from Yale, was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford and later returned to Oxford as the Harmsworth Professor of American History, and to rival Cambridge as Pitt Professor of American History. During the Second World War Rostow served as a Major in the OSS.

Carl Bode is professor of English and executive secretary of the American Civilization program at the University of Maryland. He has served as Cultural Attache at the American Embassy in London and chairman of the United States Educational Commission for the United Kingdom. Professor Bode is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Literature and a founder and first president of the American Studies Association.

Roy Basler, presently director of the Reference Department of the Library of Congress, received his master's and doctor's degrees from Duke University and an honorary Doctor of Literature from Blackburn University. He is co-editor of the monumental bibliography A Guide to the Study of the United States.

ple here might ever represent anyone in Congress. . . . Everyone says that he agrees, but no one is going to vote for it. Do we represent the student body?

The motion was passed on an eight to six vote, with Lance Berkowitz abstaining, Sandy Cain, Jerry Chizever, Vic Clark, Debbie Colner, Buddy Levis, Eric Rubin, Rolf Russart, and Rick Shearer in favor; and John Diesem, Dirk Gnodde, Steve Schaeffer, Linda Sennett, Mike Steinman and Vyta Tarulis opposed.

Student Council Votes To Disapprove Game

By Leah Figelman

• THE STUDENT COUNCIL voted last Wednesday night to "formally disapprove of the social and athletic activities of the University which took place after the assassination of President Kennedy."

The motion by Engineering Representative Rich Shearer was passed after prolonged debate by a vote of eight in favor, six opposed and one abstention. Shearer's motion expressed "the feeling that these events evidenced the poor taste of the organizations involved."

While Dr. Paul Bissell, dean of men, sat in the audience the Council declared itself in complete accord with the sentiments expressed in the motion, but debated the feasibility of expressing this to the administration. Lower Columbian representative Vic Clark expressed the Council dilemma when he said that "it is a bad situation when people in the administration with whom we have to cooperate have indicated that they do not want a discussion of this, indicating that a discussion would hamper our ability to get things done. If we do this and they retaliate, whose fault is it—ours for saying it or theirs for their small thinking?"

In discussing their right to disapprove of the Administration's actions, the Council was almost unanimous in its belief that it had the right, but some like Advocate Dirk Gnodde, felt that "In this case I would not want to exercise my right. I would not want to stand up and be counted for disapproving the Administration's actions. I can disapprove myself, but to start the ball rolling to say down with the Administration—this is distasteful to me."

The Council also debated the role of the Letter to the Editor in the HATCHET written by Council President Paul Schwab at the time of the tragedy, which expressed similar sentiments. The letter had achieved a degree of notoriety in the local Washington papers. Vice-president Linda Sennett said that Council opinion was expressed in Schwab's letter, and "anything further we do will be like an after action, and unnecessary."

Steve Schaeffer, Student Union Board chairman, agreed with Miss Sennett, but Schwab insisted on explaining that his letter to the HATCHET was written as an individual, not as president of the student body. It was not boxed as past letters from Council presidents have been, Schwab explained. "I was unsuccessful, but I tried," he said.

"If we defeat this motion," Program Director Buddy Levis pointed out, "then Paul's letter no longer speaks for the Council. This motion is backing up Paul." He ridiculed the idea of compromise for fear of angering the University. "If this is something we believe in, it is our responsibility to voice it as a body."

Vic Clark elaborated on Levis' point, adding, "How can you not vote the way the individuals you represent feel? You might say that the late President was in favor of a little bit of courage here and there."

He later insisted that by saying "we mustn't bite the hand that feeds us," representatives were implying that they must "kiss it to get more food." "If we don't vote as we believe in and the way people we represent believe in, then we have been intimidated."

Dr. Bissell interrupted Clark at this point saying that he wanted to assure the Council that there "never was and never will be" an attempt on the part of the Administration to intimidate.

The final comment before the vote was made by the initiator of the motion, Rich Shearer had stated, "I am appalled that peo-

ME? A POET? HECK NO!

I'm an economics major hinting that I want a REMINGTON® LEKTRONIC II for Christmas.
(It costs a little more than most electric shavers, but it's worth it.)

There's a simple, sound reason why the REMINGTON LEKTRONIC II costs more: it delivers more of a shave.

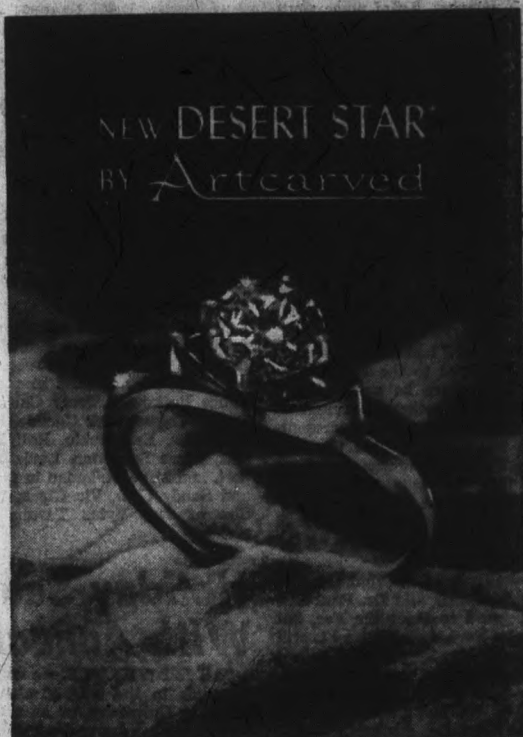

There's the cordless feature. Sealed-in, rechargeable energy cells let you shave anywhere without a plug. And what shaves they are! 348 cutting edges of high-carbon steel (sharper and tougher than stainless-steel) whisk whiskers off. The edges are honed on an angle. So whiskers get sliced off instead of "ploughed" up. 768 whisker-gathering slots in the big shaving head feed whiskers to the cutters faster. And on top of the shaving head are the REMINGTON Roller Combs. Adjust to any skin or beard. Push skin down, pop whiskers up into the cutters.

Forget to recharge? There's a cord. Plug it in and shave anywhere. With a cord, without a cord, with the LEKTRONIC II you're never without a close, comfortable shave.

800 Area High School Students Here Today For Annual Debate Conference at Lisner

• APPROXIMATELY 800 AREA public and private high school students are discussing the Federal Government's relationship to medical care at the seventeenth annual High School Discussion Conference, today in Lisner Auditorium from 8:45 to 3:45 pm.

The Honorable Robert M. Ball, Social Security Commissioner, Department of Health, Education and Welfare; and Dr. William O. LaMorre, Jr., member of the Council on Legislative Activities of the American Medical Association, will debate the question: "What should be the role of the Federal Government in providing medical care to the citizens of the United States?" Edwin Stevens, professor of speech and director of the conference, will serve as moderator. A question period will follow.

The students will divide into 24 individual discussion groups. Each high school will send one delegate to each of eight groups, which will discuss the topic debated by the guest speaker and submit a written resolution to the conference director. The best resolution will be chosen and ac-knowledgeed by the conference officials.

University students will serve as group leaders. They are: Joan Aquino, Robert Barnes, Jane Bayol, Richard Bowling, Cynthia Cohen, Nancy Cooper, Robert Dailey, Adrienne Drier, Carolyn Everard, Devonna Goodwin, Alice Handwerk, Mike Houliston, Paul Kalder, Karole Lee Kowal, Ellen Leon, Dion Meek, Micheleen McNeill, Janice Niblett, Sheila Potts, Barbara Rehman, Merle Ruderfer, Jill Stormer, Kent Tilford, and Angeline Wilson.

Union Hours Lengthened

• THE FOURTH FLOOR of the Student Union is now open for study on Sundays from 10 am until midnight. Daily closing time has been extended from 11 pm until midnight.

The time changes were made at the request of the Student Union Board. Other Board requests were also implemented last week, Board chairman Steve Schaeffer announced.

New items have been added to the menu. Items introduced include pizza steak sandwiches, home-baked turnovers, bagels with cream cheese, and home-baked cakes.

Work schedules have been revised to make all help available at peak hours, and an additional manager is on the floor so that it is covered at all times.

Steps have been taken to improve sanitary conditions of the Union.

EXCITING THINGS HAPPEN AT FORD MOTOR COMPANY!

THE 100,000-MILE ENGINEERING TEST THAT SET OVER 100 NEW WORLD RECORDS

It began September 21 in Florida, when a team of four 1964 Comets, specially equipped and prepared for high-speed driving, set out to do the equivalent of four earth orbits at Daytona International Speedway—100,000 miles at speeds well over 100 miles an hour, round the clock for 40 days, through weather fair and foul.

They did it, all four of them, and they made history! They did it in the full glare of publicity. In semi-tropical heat. In the teeth of torrential squalls that fringed two hurricanes. Including time out for refueling and maintenance, the lead car averaged over 108 miles an hour, topping over 100 national and world records!*

For all practical purposes this was an engineering trial—the most grueling test of staying power and durability ever demanded of a new car. Only near perfection could stand the punishment dished out to parts and components hour after hour, mile after mile. Brakes, engines, transmissions, ignition systems—every single part a pawn in a grim game of fruth or consequence, with total product quality the stake. And they all came through hands down!

Now that it's over and in the record books, what does it mean? New proof of Ford-built stamina and durability! New evidence that Ford-built means better built! Yes—and more, it is a direct reflection of the confidence and creative know-how, the spirit and spunk of Ford Motor Company's engineering, styling and manufacturing team—men who find rewarding adventure in technical breakthroughs.

More proof of the exciting things that happen at Ford Motor Company to bring brighter ideas and better-built cars to the American Road.

Editorials

Good Medicine . . .

• THE ACTIVITIES FEE was defeated in referendum last year. Once again, the Student Council has voted to submit the Fee question to a vote of the student body, and it is quite likely, though not certain, that the proposal will fail again. Why is it that students continue to resist a proposal which is not only necessary, but at most schools compulsory? Although the democratic process is right and good it is often cumbersome.

The major objection to such a fee is that it is an additional expense to an already ever-increasing tuition rate, and that it is ridiculous to pay in advance for activities in which the student may not desire or be able to participate.

However, a reiteration of the argument in defense of such a fee is in order. All the activities which would be making use of the funds would be able to plan their programs in advance with full knowledge of their budgetary needs and assets. The programs, through such long-range planning, are bound to be better and more successful. Money worries detract from the creative energy.

The Council, in proposing the referendum, decided to take one more chance on the student body. Perhaps, after all, it might have been better for the original recommendation to have been made to the administration to institute the Fee automatically. Sometimes, cod-liver oil is to be prescribed without the patient's sanction merely because it is good for him. The HATCHET feels that the Activities Fee is good for the University and for the University students.

Be Counted . . .

• "HEAR NO EVIL, see no evil, speak no evil" is dogma for monkeys, not for people. Freedom to speak is not enough. Freedom to criticize is an equally fundamental right which the HATCHET has always maintained for itself and now feels called upon to advocate for others.

The Student Council, in last week's meeting, raised the question when discussing its right to disapprove of the actions of the administration. One student commented, "I wouldn't want to stand up and be counted for disapproving the Administration's actions." There was some sentiment in agreement with his feeling but generally the Council felt that as a body representative of the students it should be actively and fearlessly watching out for their interests.

Often, the target area is not the safest nor the most comfortable place to be. Yet, it is the responsibility of those elected to stand on the firing line and when they hear or see evil, or foolishness, or ignorance, to speak out.

Criticism need not be destructive, but better destructive criticism than no criticism at all. In an atmosphere where truth goes untested and errors unchallenged the intellectual climate is murky. John Milton in the Aereopagitica defends, eloquently, the right to speak, even in an unpopular cause. Can the University do less? Look at the example set by Frostburg.

Not All Criticism . . .

• THE FACT THAT this year's intramural basketball program features nearly forty independent and Greek teams playing over 300 games five nights a week is a tribute to the patience and planning of the Intramural Department.

Because we are an urban University with no gymnasium to speak of, other than the "tin tabernacle" which accommodates two spectators if they perch precariously in the rafters, we are prone to forget the phenomenal athletic program that operates within the University. Competition in EVERY conceivable sport from foul shooting to ping pong is coordinated and executed in a manner that draws acclaim and pleas of assistance from many other schools across the nation.

Professor Vincent DeAngelis has accomplished the impossible, providing an intramural program second to none in facilities that are rivaled by Grant School.

India's Greatest Dancer To Perform at Lisner on Dec. 19

• SHANTA RAO, DANCER of India, will revive the "Dance of the Divine Seductress" at a program sponsored by the Institute of Contemporary Arts for the University Consortium, at 8:30 pm, Dec. 19, in Lisner Auditorium. Free tickets will be distributed in the Student Union, daily from 12-1 pm and 5-6 pm.

Miss Rao, India's greatest dancer, with her company of dancers and musicians from the southernmost tip of India is making her first coast-to-coast tour of the United States in six years, under the auspices of the Asia Society Performing Arts Program. Many of her dances have never been seen outside of India.

Mistress of the classical form Bharata Natyam, she has the widest repertoire of any dancer in her field and, according to critics in New York, where she performed in September, she is "superbly disciplined yet uncommonly radiant." She has been dancing since the age of 12 and has traveled to the remote villages of India in search of fresh materials and uncorrupted native dances which she restores and revives.

Potomac Format, Prose, Show Improvement in This Issue

by Joan Ellen Mandel

• THE FIRST ISSUE of the POTOMAC has a nice solid look about it. The cover photograph, the type faces, the makeup and quality of the paper show some concern for the aesthetics of the literary magazine genre. The POTOMAC is coming of age.

Yet, it is not full-grown. Nearly all of the poetry aims at a revelation of self but generally deals with moods or feelings remote from the author's own experience. I take particular exception to the poem "Chicago Poem" by Roberta Koch. There is a false ring to the theme of sex known and enjoyed, an implication of "this is the bread of life" which is presumptuous in one so young.

Many of the poems seem like exercises in reflection of something read but not too well absorbed. The admonition of freshman composition instructors that students write about what they know is still valid.

What ever happened to meter, rhythm and the keeping of accent? In the conversation with Howard Nemerov, poetry consultant to the Library of Congress,

Madrigal Singers . . .

• UNIVERSITY MADRIGAL SINGERS will rehearse for the first time on Tuesday, Dec. 17, at 7:30 in room 20 of Bldg. FF, 2023 H St. Attendance is required.

Students may still join the group, which is under the direction of Julie Zabawa, University voice instructor. Sign-up sheets are on the bulletin boards in Bldg. FF.

The poet says that the use of rhythm was one of the first things he had to learn. Free verse becomes so free that it is almost prose.

Probably for that reason I found William Corigan's "Diptych" with its ab-ab-ab regularity a welcome relief.

At the opposing pole are three poems by R. W. Brown who might do well to forego his tendency to alliteration at the expense of sense. But at least he doesn't clutter with an excess of artificial metaphor. He is most successful in the poem "Lyric," brief, poignant, intense.

Contrast that with words striving so hard to be poetry that they fall from their own weight in the untitled verse by Carol Karasik and in the twisted and self-conscious "In Memoriam" (sic) of Nathaniel Muller.

On the whole, for the first time that I can recall, the prose outstrips the poetry. The best story in the book is "The Moon Crossing." It shows that William Corigan has a real flair for dialogue and a nice descriptive touch which sometimes leans a little too heavily ly on the Dreiser school and the theme of incipient sex.

All in all, the construction of the book is much more professional than it has been in the past. The photographs are pleasing, if not particularly connected to anything else, and the pen and ink sketches are lively. The conversation with Nemerov mentioned earlier is pure delight. Take one very literate and eloquent man, ask him questions and let him talk—that is real wit and true poetry.

Directories . . .

• SALES OF THE 1963 Student Directory will continue this week in the lobby of the Student Union from 12-1 and 5-6. Over 500 copies have been sold.

• A BIG WEEKEND, but very little response! I can't decide whether everyone's just plain lazy or suffering from unpleasant after effects. Anyway, between G Street, the Presidential Arms, the River House, the Washington Club, Carolyn Macks', Tom Rota's, and Dianne Sullivan's, I've been kept pretty busy—so busy I don't know where to begin. I suppose I should clarify my above haunts first, so I'll start with G street, or rather the Phi Sig House on Saturday night, and their annual Miss Model Pledge Contest. Congratulations to Aggie Kiely, Andy DeAugustinis, and Sue Martin, and to the Pi Phis and DG's for their first page prominence and first class showings.

The Presidential Arms was my next stop, and Aggie's and Sue's also, for the Sigma Chi Sweetheart Dance. More congratulations are in order to their new sweetheart, Joleen Osterling, Ed Kemper's new fiancée. New pinmates Bob Laycock and Linda Keighly seemed to be enjoying themselves, as did two other new pinmates, John Hill and Harriet Herndon.

Tom Rota's modest abode was the scene for the after-party party which proved to be quite a party. Metz, French, Stryjewski and Leopold staged a balcony scene, while Clarke added his weight to the project.

The Kappa's Pledge Formal at the Washington Club, pre-empted by a cocktail party (ask Jeannie about the Champagne) at Dianne Sullivan's, saw their lovely pledge class presented to society. Bill or

Moot Trial Scheduled In Lisner

• "A GIRL, A BOY and a bully" set the theme for the Moot General Court Martial to be held at Lisner Auditorium tonight at 8 pm. The trial, which is open to all students, will be presented by the University Law School.

The events leading to the proceedings against Airman Weeks are as follows: Weeks and his girl friend, Pamela Jones went for an outing at the beach on Week's day off. While at the beach, enjoying the usual horseplay and boy-girl antics, they were continually pestered by lifeguard Donald Savage, a symbol of physical fitness and masculinity.

After avoiding Savage, also called "Tarzan," they completed their day at the beach and proceeded to the pavilion for a dance. While Weeks and Miss Jones were dancing, Savage, who sees himself as a ladies' man interfered quite rudely.

When Weeks protested, he was forced outside by Savage who began to beat the airman. Weeks refused to fight, but was subject to a brutal and painful beating at the hands of the lifeguard. Then bleeding and on his knees, Weeks (semi-conscious), foraged in the sand and found a beer bottle. He grabbed the bottle, and brandishing it, told Savage to let him alone.

The altercation continued and Savage incurred a deep cut on the neck.

Weeks was charged with assault with a deadly weapon, and was brought before the court-martial.

The purpose of this court-martial, stated Clifford A. Dougherty, of the University Law Review, "is to provide practice for students in the trial practice court, a demonstration of court-martial procedures for all in attendance and a training exercise for Reserve officers assigned to the Judge Advocate General's Office."

Counsel for the accused will be law students from the Trial Practice Course at the Law School, Jack Mennis, and J. V. Flanagan.

'Wheeler-Dealers' Leads List Of Screen Laugh Makers

By Ron Scheraga and Bob Litman
 • CONSIDERING THE TIME of year, there are a number of fine films on screens in the area.

If it's laughs you're looking for, head for the Palace and "Wheeler-Dealers," where James Garner and Lee Remick are heading the laugh-makers. Though not exceptional, it is amusing, and Miss Remick is quite a dish.

Still want more comedy, then make steps to Keith's and take in "McLintock!" with John Wayne. We've heard good things about this spoof on westerns.

To satisfy the many legions of Alfred Hitchcock fans, the Circle Theatre is running some his best films. Not to be outdone, the Calvert Theatre is headlining its bill with mystery and suspense fare, also with the accent on Hitchcock.

The Playhouse has a cracking good double bill, with "David and Lisa," one of the most moving films of recent years, and one of Peter Seller's better comedies, "Wrong Arm of the Law."

For those who missed it earlier, "Lawrence of Arabia," last year's justly deserving best film, is playing at a number of theatres in the suburbs.

For the thinking set, the Dupont is offering the highly acclaimed Polish film, "Knife in the Water," whose stars were recently featured on the cover of Time Magazine.

The Apex has revived the vintage 1939 masterpiece, "Wuthering Heights" with Sir Laurence Olivier and Merle Oberon. We urge you to see it.

Med School F & S, SAE In Swim Meet Honors

• PETE YOELL OF Pi Kappa Alpha and Kaany of the Med School (freshman and sophomore team), who tied for first place in last year's intramural swim meet, battled for the lead again Friday night, and this time Yoell triumphed by a slim margin. Third place in the individual scoring went to W. Perry Pendley, swimming for Adams Hall.

Kaany, with 24 points, led the Med School freshmen and sophomores to victory in the team competition. The SAE's pulled a strong second place, followed by the Gents in third and the Delts in fourth.

Adams Hall, boosted by Pendley's performance, racked up an outstanding score, but the points could not be counted in official team competition because Adams did not enter a full team of five men.

Ten individual events of the meet were: 50-yard free style, back stroke, breast stroke, and butterfly, 75-yard free style, back stroke, breast stroke, and butterfly, 100-yard free style, and 75-yard individual medley. In these events ten points were awarded for first place, seven points for second, four for third, and one for fourth.

In the 75-yard medley relay and the 75-yard free style relay, ten points were awarded to the team finishing first, five points for second place, and two points for third.

• INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL came into the spotlight this weekend. A record 38 teams have been entered, 16 in the "A" League and 22 in the "B" League. The expanded schedule allows play on six days per week with games scheduled every day but Wednesdays.

TKE Over Gents

In this week's action TKE downed the Gents-2, 74-62 in the highest scoring game in the "A" League. Two former varsity letter winners, Jon and Jeff Feldman tallied 30 and 34 points respectively for TKE. Leading 38-29, at the half, the Feldmans accounted for 32 of the 34 points scored by TKE, as they broke the game wide open. Scoring was fairly evenly distributed for the Gents, with Branch, Ham, Stull, and Yakin hitting for double figures.

SAE Edges SX

SAE took an early lead and hung on to its lead throughout the rest of the contest to edge SX, 35-33. SX continually kept the pressure on the SAE's, who were never able to put the game on ice, though they led 25-16 at the half. The game ended with SAE in control of the ball after an exciting last

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE: LARRY DONAT

Larry Donat (B.S.E.E., 1960) is presently a marketing representative in the special services section of Ohio Bell's Cleveland office. Larry must plan communications systems which allow business machines to talk to each other in their own language. No wonder he finds the job so interesting and challenging.

He moved to his present assignment after a three-month course in five basic aspects of data—business machines, systems analyses, computers, switching and marketing.

Larry was well prepared for his most recent promotion.

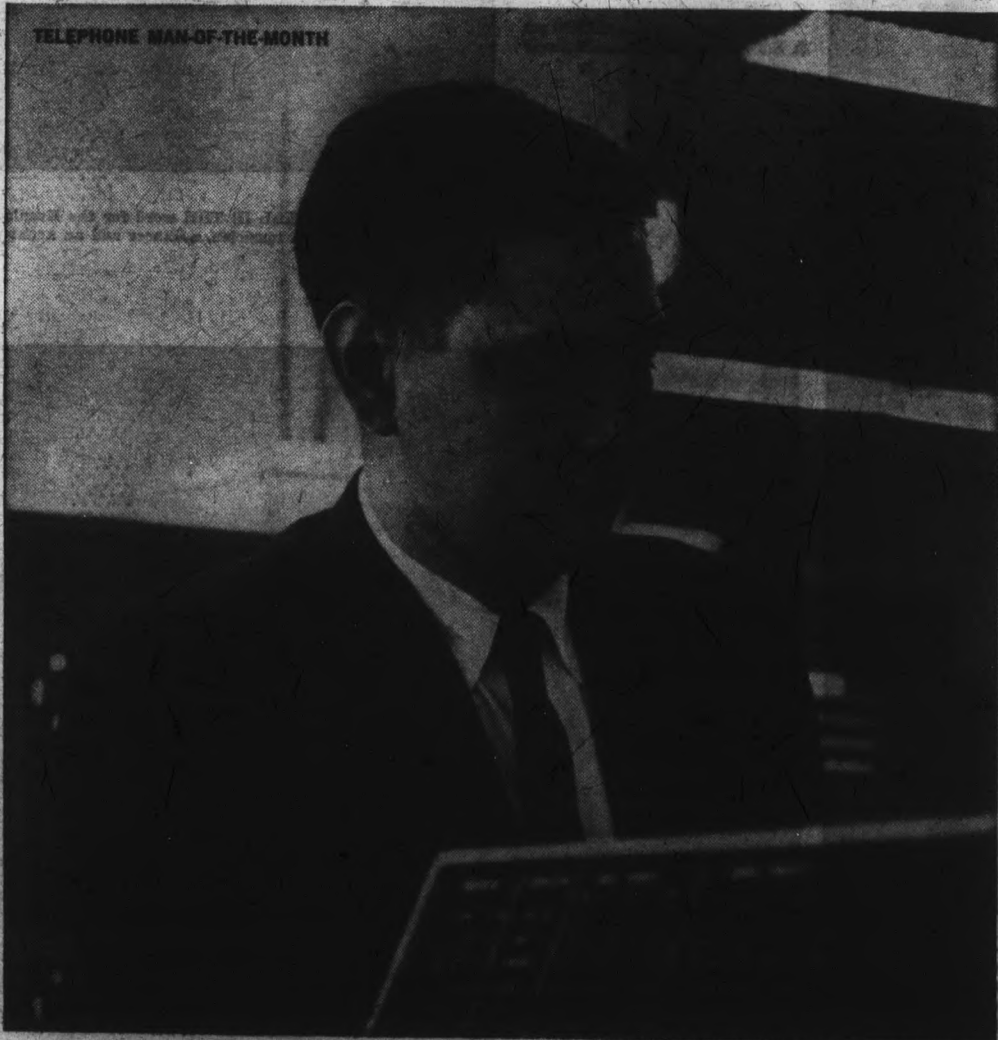

He started off as an assistant engineer in the central office equipment group, where he was responsible for maintaining the operating efficiency of intricate switching equipment. More time was spent in traffic, training, plant, commercial and various schools, giving him a well-rounded background in communications.

Larry Donat, like many young engineers, is impatient to make things happen for his company and himself. There are few places where such restlessness is more welcomed or rewarded than in the fast-growing telephone business.

few minutes when it was touch and go as to whether the SX's could pull it out.

Bob Armstrong was a big man for the SAE's, playing well under the boards. Bruce Keith contributed 11 points to the SAE cause and was also valuable on rebounds. Tom Metz paced SX with 13 points and played a good defensive game.

DThPhi Thumps PSK

Strecker's 20 points led DThPhi to a 40-23 win over PSK. Bob Barnes paced PhiSK with eight points.

Law turned on PIKA, 47-5. Bryar was the big gun for Law, accounting for 12 points. Murphy and Glodek also reached double figures for the winners.

Calhoun downed AEPI, 34-28, overcoming a 13-12 half-time disadvantage. Mulder of Calhoun was high scorer in the game with 14 points, the only player on either squad to hit double figures. Leong hit for eight for Calhoun, and Jack Goldberg connected for four field goals in a losing cause for the Apes.

"B" Loop

In the "B" Loop, SX took a commanding 24-9 halftime advantage and increased it in the second half, as they went on to defeat ROTC, 44-20. Paul Teter paced the winners with 17 points, scoring 15 in the first half. Reilly dropped in eight for SX, and Mike Frankhauser paced the losers with nine.

The Yahus overwhelmed T. Tau, 41-18. Rowens of the Yahus was the pacesetter for both teams with 14 points. The Yahus outscored T. Tau, 17-11 in the first half and poured it on to roll up 24 points in the second half, while holding T. Tau to seven with fine defensive work.

In a low-scoring contest, Adams downed DTD, 19-9. TEP-1 put on a good offensive show as they downed AEPI-2, 50-19. Bobby Wright sank 17 points to lead in the scoring. Alan Buchner also had a good afternoon for the TEP, hitting for 10.

PSD Overwhelms KS

PSD and KS played a close first half before PSD broke the game wide open in the second half and went on to win, 44-26. Marc Isenberg of PSD scored 18 points, high for both teams. Jim Paulson paced KS with 10 and was also a valuable rebounder and playmaker.

Barry Kline had a good night against TEP-2, hitting for 20 points, as SAE won, 47-21. SAE got good performances from Steve is it me...or Jack Winter!

It's you, princess, when you have the Jack Winter look. But whoa... take a minute to learn about the subject of stretch. Because once you put yourself in Jack Winter stretch pants, you are going to get the eye test. Be darn sure you can pass. Questions. Should you wear stretch pants? What kind of figure does it take? Most all figures are flattered by stretch, whether angular, triangular, or a figure eight. Even if you have an hourglass figure where all the sand has sunk to the bottom, stretch pants can do quick subtracting. You won't need a grease job to slip in, but there's no sag, bag or hind either. Jack Winter cuts 'em just right...lean and ladylike...proportioned in your proper leg-length. So it's you and Jack Winter getting all those straight-on, slant-eyed, turn-about-face looks. You and Jack Winter causing that campus stir.

Buff Cagers Finally Win One In Steel Bowl Consolation Tilt

by Bill Fredenberger

• AFTER LOSING ITS FIRST three games, GW finally came up with an 87-86 victory over Westminster College giving the Colonials third place in the Steel Bowl Tournament at Pittsburgh this past weekend.

Trailing 80-73 with a minute and ten seconds remaining, the Buff launched a drive with Harvey Mallis' three-point play which brought the score to 80-76. Mark Clark, GW's high-scorer with 25 points, hit two free throws and the score was 80-78 with ten seconds left. Then Rick Duques stole the ball and GW called time out with seven seconds to go. Duques threw the ball to Clark, who hit one jump shot from the Westminster foul circle with one second left in regulation time to tie it up 80-80.

Westminster led through most of the game, but in overtime it was a different story. The Colonials moved ahead quickly to an 86-82 lead on a basket by Clark and a lay-up plus two free throws by Eddie "Duke" Farrell. Farrell hit on another free throw to stave off the gaining Westminster gang, and the Buff brought home victory number one for the 1963-64 season.

Cincinnati Smears Buff

GW's previous three games were not quite as successful. The Colonials ran into a stone wall as they bowed to Cincinnati 101-65 on Nov. 30. All Americans Ron Bonham and George Wilson led the Bearcats in the season opener, but both left the game with ten minutes remaining, to give the reserves some experience.

Bonham, a 6'5" senior, sank 11 of 16 shots from the field and scored 31 points. The 6'8" Wilson grabbed 14 rebounds and scored 15 points.

The Colonials held their only lead on an opening basket by forward Bill Aruscavage, and by the time five minutes had gone by Cincinnati had moved in front to stay, with ten straight points. The Buff's Kenny Legins, held to five points in the first half, made 17 points in the second half and paced the GW scorers with 22.

Easy Time for St. John's

Poor shooting followed the Colonial cagers to New York on Dec. 4 as St. John's University had an easy time with the visiting team, 82-64. GW trailed 16-14 after ten minutes but, sparked by the McIntyre brothers, Ken and Bob, St. John's outscored the Buff, 13-1 during an eight-minute stretch in the first half. Ken McIntyre scored 20 points while brother Bob added 16 and hauled down 13 rebounds.

The first round of the Steel Bowl Tournament, last weekend, afforded no relief to the winless cagers as Pittsburgh sped past GW in the final eight minutes, to leave the Buff 21 points in the hole, 89-68.

The Colonials started quickly and led throughout the first half by connecting on 16 of 34 field goal attempts. The two teams stayed on an even keel for ten minutes of the second half, but with the score 59-58 the Panthers tore loose on a 13 point scoring spree while GW could only manage one field goal. Duke Farrell of the Colonials and Calvin Sheffield of Pittsburgh tied for high scoring honors with 19 points each.

So far this season the Buff has been plagued by a poor shooting percentage. Until the Westminster game they could only muster success in one third of their field goal attempts. Yet, GW has been over-matched in at least the Cincinnati and Pittsburgh games. Performance against St. John's was below-par, but the fact that the Colonials hit nearly 50 percent of their shots in the Westminster game has an equalizing effect.

Colonials Meet VMI, Furman This Week

• AFTER AN UNSUCCESSFUL start against four non-Southern Conference opponents, the Colonials will host conference rivals VMI and Furman at Fort Myer on Tuesday and Friday nights.

Senior Bill Blair, the fourth highest scorer in the Southern Conference, and 6'7" center Bobby Watson will co-captain an improved VMI five. In 6'3" Blair, (19.9 points per game last year) the Keydets possess a marvelous shooter who drives well from the backcourt. Juniors Joe Kruszewski, Jeff Gausepohl and John Prosser round out the group of five returning lettermen.

Last year the Keydets had their finest frosh team (10-4) in over a decade. Seven newcomers will move up to the varsity including 6'2" Charlie Schmaus, potentially VMI's finest all-around player.

Last year the two teams split as VMI won the first game 74-73 while the Colonials came back to win soundly 81-69.

The Purple Paladins of Furman will not be the same team which defeated the Colonials last year

82-74 and 57-54. The Paladins have lost two All-Southern Conference players; high scoring Jerry Smith and rebounding standout Gerald Glur. Last year Smith scored 32 points against the Buff. Lacking speed and scoring ability, veteran coach Lyles Alley, will stress defense this year. The only two established players are Leroy Peacock and Don Frye. In addition, there are only two sophomores listed on the varsity roster.

This week will give the Colonials a chance to get a good start in the Southern Conference. Look for the Buff to pull in two wins this week.

Camp Gets GW Contract

by Jim Campbell

• AFTER A STARTLING season in 1960, when the Colonials won five, lost three, and tied one, the year's Southern Conference Coach of the Year, Bill Elias, was drawn away from the University after only one season because of greener, at least money-wise, fields at Virginia.

Coach Camp's first year here was a year of frustrations. The Colonials won three and lost six, but if the point total had been spread around just a little, the record might have been just the opposite, for there were three games in which the team lost by four points or less.

His second season at the University also proved to be frustrating, for even with all the talent available the team only won three games. That season was the one in which the Colonials faced the big powers in football, Army and Syracuse, and it was obvious that Camp needed to rebuild more strenuously than he had.

This year, in spite of preseason hopes of upsets, proved to be another tale of defeat, with the Colonials winning only two games. The high point of the year came when the Buff overpowered a weak Brigham Young team to win the Homecoming game, the first Homecoming victory in three seasons.

Two weeks ago, Coach Camp signed a new three-year contract.
